

Call for Papers

Zeitschrift für Weiterbildungsforschung
Journal for Research on Adult Education

Issue 2 | 2023

Open Issue

Edited by Katrin Kraus & Gabriele Molzberger

The editors of ZfW invite researchers in adult and continuing education to publish current research findings as part of an open issue. With this issue, we would like to contribute to making current methodological debates and research desiderata from the discipline visible in the discourse. In addition, contributions are invited that deal with the history of the discipline and profession. And, as always, contributions that focus on reciprocal connections between national and international research on adult education are welcome.

The Journal for Research on Adult Education welcomes contributions from the broad theoretical and methodological spectrum of theoretical-systematic, historiographical and comparative research approaches as well as qualitatively and / or quantitatively oriented research papers.

We look forward to receiving your submissions. You are also welcome to send us outlines of ideas that can be further developed subsequently. You may send a draft (max. 500 words) of your contribution to the editorial office redaktion-zfw@die-bonn.de by March 15, 2023.

Submission deadline for manuscripts: April 15, 2023
